

FlySwipe provides solutions and platforms to the multiscreen TV Everywhere (TVE) industry. We have embraced big data technology and cloud services to maximize your profit potential with your subscribers.

Our cloud services provide outstanding production playout streaming service, plus FlySwipe provides the platform to deliver a very personalized TV viewing experience. Our media players do not require any specialized plug-ins, mobile app, or special browsers to view our content. Your subscribers will not see your content being hosted in any over the top provider such as YouTube.

We provide a total white label solution that is designed to maximize the viewer experience and the operator's revenues and profits. Your subscribers view media content that is branded in the name of your company. Your customers don't realize that the content or advertising is coming from FlySwipe.

Our platforms provide a shared advertising model that creates higher CPM rates and new revenue streams for your existing broadcast, cable, pay TV, and ISP services. We do this with our vast set of personalized data points that provides a new generation of targeted advertising to the TVE viewers.

When your company embraces the emerging TVE subscriber opportunities with FlySwipe's integrated dynamic data solutions and platforms, you maximize your network's full potential to create revenue. FlySwipe performs all advertising functions and shares ad revenue with your company.

Our offline data services create new and enhanced revenue opportunities for TV Broadcasters, Cable Operators and ISPs. Our dynamic database has over a billion data points and delivers a total immersive engagement for the TVE viewer. This drives higher ad sales for your network and maximizes your networks revenues.

The best data matched with a TVE playout platform creates a new revenue engine for you and provides long term value for your subscribers. If you are seeking a TVE platform, make sure you have the offline data set capabilities that will make you profitable.
